Luxury Designer Home With Spectacular Ocean

This impressive home is situated in an elevated position and is set within the boundaries of the westerns Algarve's premier golf course. It has the distinction of being one of the first plots to be purchased in the area and as a result has arguably the best view. In addition, the fact that the plot was purchased during the first phase of the resort it has a certain amount of autonomy giving the owners more independence.

The property has been designed and engineered with energy efficiency in mind and indeed the credentials for being self-sustaining exceed the norm. Even though construction methods have improved over the years this property certainly goes above and beyond in every respect whilst not compromising on style and comfort
